Who Shall Be The Administration Candidate
For Governor, The Question.

STATE BOARD OF CONTROL ANXIOUS

Governor Spent A Busy Day At His Desk Yesterday—Gathering Of The Clans In Capital City.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Madison, Wis., July 12.—To people close to the La Follette administration it is known that "Speaker" Le Roy is the logical candidate for governor. So general and open has become talk of this character that it is believed that the agreement upon the Superior man as the next gubernatorial choice of the present executive and a number of his close associates was reached at conference held here yesterday, when the governor called at the capital between Chautauque lecture engagements. No direct confirmation of this report, however, was obtainable from the executive office.

Was a Friction
There seems to have been some friction among the managers of the university, resulting in the resignation of Col. W. F. Vilas as a member of the board of regents. His resignation came unexpectedly and was not announced here, but "leaked" in Milwaukee. No reason for the resignation was given out here, but a report to the effect that Col. Vilas intended to travel extensively in Europe and desired not to remain on the board for that reason was given express and emphatic denial by Vilas. He said he had no plans which necessitated his resignation, but he declined to give the true reason. Late last night Governor La Follette unexpectedly announced a considerable batch of appointments, naming six university regents and four members of the advisory board of the new state hospital for the treatment of persons afflicted with tuberculosis. The appointments are as follows:

UNIVERSITY REGENTS.
W. J. McElroy, Milwaukee, to succeed James M. Peries, for full term of three years.
Magnus Swenson, Madison, to succeed W. F. Vilas, resigned, for term ending in February, 1907.
L. S. Hanks, Madison; Arthur J. Puls, Milwaukee; E. E. Evans, La Crosse; M. C. Mead, Plymouth, all to succeed themselves for the full term of three years.

TUBERCULOSIS BOARD.
Dr. H. L. Russell, member faculty university, department of bacteriology, for five years.
Dr. Gustav Schmidt, Milwaukee, for four years.
Dr. C. A. Harper, Madison, secretary state board of health, for three years.
Dr. J. C. Coulter, Marinette, for two years.

The new railroad rate and civil service commissions are still to elect their secretaries and other subordinates. C. O. Marsh of Antigo, chief clerk of the last two legislative assemblies, is slated for secretary and examiner of the civil service commission. The salary is $2,500 a year. Commissioner Halford Erickson said yesterday that the rate commission would not make any appointments for a few days, that the time now was being spent in carefully studying the new law and getting familiar with the powers, duties and limitations of the commission.

MORE CHANGES IN RUSSIAN CABINET

Minister of the Interior Will Resign and Treppoff Take His Place.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
St. Petersburg, July 12.—It is stated on good authority that M. Boulganin will shortly resign as minister of the interior and be succeeded by Gen. Treppoff. The terrorists have renewed the warnings against Treppoff, who is constantly receiving letters telling him his end is near. The letters say: "Your sentence will be executed in your own room. You will die in your bed." Treppoff makes no concealment of the fact he expects to be killed, but his nerve is unshaken.

ARE LEGISLATORS ON THE FATAL LIST?

Milwaukee Grand Jury Find Plenty of Work to Do Investigating.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., July 12.—The grand jury is preparing to hand in a third batch of indictments in the graft cases. So far the indictments have related almost exclusively to county affairs, but now the grand jury is turning its attention to state matters. The primary election bill is being investigated. James Ikey, chairman of the citizens' committee during the sessions of the last grand jury, was a witness today.

LEADING BANKERS OF NEW YORK STATE IN MEETING ON THOUSAND ISLANDS.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Thousand Islands, July 12.—Practically all of the leading bankers of New York State, with men conspicuous in banking circles of other state were present at the opening of the annual convention of the New York State Bankers' Association at the Frontenac Hotel here today. The annual address was made by Charles H. Sablin, president of the association. Among the important speakers announced on the program are Joseph C. Brown, president of the Citizens' National Bank, of Raleigh, N. C., whose subject will be "A Voice From the South." Extensive plans have been made for the entertainment of the delegates.

State Rate Hearing Ends.
Springfield, Ill., July 12.—The state railroad rate hearing is concluded but, according to Chairman Neville, no decision may be expected for several days. Governor Hennen is to see the evidence before a decision is reached.

Ice Cream Causes Epidemic.
Alma, Mich., July 12.—Out of 500 students who partook of a commencement banquet at Alma College, forty are dangerously ill of typhoid fever. It is believed that ice cream served at the banquet caused the epidemic.

DISEASE BREAKS OUT AMONG THE JAPANESE

Dead After Battle of Mukden Were Buried in Shallow Trenches.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Sipinghai, Manchuria, July 12.—The situation at the front is unchanged. The Japanese are still moving on Korea. The Russian trains move as far as Changtatu. It is reported the Japanese soldiers are anxious for peace and that Oyama is continually issuing glowing appeals to the men in order to counteract this feeling. The Chinese say the decaying corpses buried in shallow graves after the battle of Mukden have created a terrible condition. The plague and cholera has appeared among the Japanese.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

The dates for holding the thirty-first annual convention of the American Bankers' association at Washington have been changed to Oct. 11, 12 and 13, 1905. The conventions of the trust company section and savings bank section will be held Oct. 10.

Alec Leutz, photographer, was arrested and taken to Evansville, Ind., by postoffice officials, charged with sending obscene literature through the mails. At his preliminary hearing he was released on bond to appear before the grand jury in Indianapolis.

Matt Michaelczek, 28 years old, died in Minneapolis, Minn., from the effects of a blow on the head from an iron cuspidor said to have been thrown by John Kanevich, alias Tony Novon. The men are alleged to have quarreled and in the ensuing fight the cuspidor was thrown, striking Michaelczek on the head.

As a result of an explosion of natural gas in the residence of Thomas Dillon, at the corner of Fortieth street and Liberty avenue, Pittsburg, Pa., Mrs. Margaret Dillon was killed and seven others injured. Two houses were completely wrecked and two others badly damaged. Of the injured, Thomas Dillon, husband of the dead woman, will probably die.

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw will reach Chicago Saturday. He will make an address at the dedication of a new Young Men's Christian association building at Lake Geneva, Ill., in afternoon.

H. P. Kenney, president of the Delaware railroad, is critically ill at Philadelphia. He obtained national prominence through having charge of the train that carried Lincoln to Washington for his inauguration.

At the American legation at Panama, in the presence of W. S. Sands, the charge d'affaires, and Joseph Lee, consul general, Charles G. Magoon, governor of the canal zone, formally assumed his duties as American minister to Panama.

It was announced at the Grand Army headquarters at Boston that owing to the illness of Commander in Chief W. W. Blackmar his proposed visit to the encampment in Washington state and Alaska had been canceled. General Blackmar is at Boise, Idaho, under the care of a physician.

EIGHT MEN WERE KILLED IN EXPLOSION OF GUNPOWDER

Factory Blows up at Point Richmond,
California, This Morning.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Point Richmond, Cal., July 12.—Eight men were killed in an explosion that destroyed the mixing house of the giant powder works at Sebastopol, eight miles northeast of here, this morning. The dead are Frank Sawyer, foreman, and seven Chinese laborers.

THINK REVOLUTION IS ALMOST GENERAL

Peasants of Russia, Because News Is Suppressed, Imagine Conditions
Very Bad.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
St. Petersburg, July 12.—Daily the impression is growing that the government's policy of keeping the facts regarding the country's condition from the people is bound to result disastrously. The people give a willing ear to all the stories which are so alloted and nothing seems to be too wild to receive credence. Many people are actually convinced that the country is in the throes of revolution. Although the critical character of this can hardly be overestimated and, while the danger of a general upheaval is undoubtedly real, there is no reason to believe that there will be mutiny among the soldiers as there has been among the sailors. The revolutionists are working daily with feverish activity, but the government officials are trying as hard to suppress their movements and in certain parts of the city a state of almost terror exists.

MURDERER OF UNION RULE BREAKER HUNG

One of Three Strikers Who Killed
Fellow Unionist for Infraction of Rules, Given Dues.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Jefferson City, Mo., July 12.—Edgar G. Bailey, who with others killed Albert Ferguson in Kansas City in March, 1904, was hanged today. Bailey's crime grew out of a strike inaugurated by the hack drivers' union in Kansas City. Ferguson was charged by the strikers with violating the rules of the union in carrying passengers while the strike was in progress. He was decapitated by a desolate quarter of the city and there put to death for the infraction of these rules.

BLIND DRAFTS WRECK A BANK

Secret of Dead Cashier's Methods Is Found at Hagerstown, Ind.

Richmond, Ind., July 12.—John Bowman, who wrecked the Commercial bank at Hagerstown, used the blind draft system. Drafts for from $1,000 to $5,000 on corresponding banks made payable to himself as cashier, were recorded on bank books in other names. The discovery was made through the finding of stubs of old bank draft books which Bowman failed to destroy before he committed suicide. Judge Fox announced that the grand jury would be called on to investigate the stories that persons other than Bowman had guilty knowledge of the bank's affairs.

NOTED UNITARIAN IS DEAD IN LONDON

Was Ousted From Northwestern University Faculty for Public Disavowal of Christ.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Quincy, Ill., July 12.—Word reached here today of the death in a London hospital of Rev. Charles William Pearson, formerly the professor of English literature in Northwestern university and lately pastor of the Unitarian church in this city. Rev. Pearson was forced to leave Northwestern university, which he had served twenty-seven years, owing to his liberal religious views and public disavowal and disbelief in the divinity of Christ.

TO PAY GOVERNMENT CLERKS IN CHECKS

New System Now on Trial in Treasury Department To Prevent Possible Defalcations.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Washington, July 12.—Under the orders of Secretary of the Treasury Leslie Shaw about 1,000 clerks in his department will receive their bi-monthly salaries Saturday in checks instead of cash. This is only an experiment of the Secretary's inauguration for the purpose of preventing defalcation by government disbursing officers, as far as possible. If the scheme proves a success in his own department, Mr. Shaw will widen the scheme until all government clerks in Washington receive their salary twice a month by check upon the government. By doing away with the handling of large sums of money by disbursing officers and confining their payments to checks upon the treasury, the disbursing officers will be relieved of temptation, as they will not have to keep in their possession large amounts of government cash. The pay checks will go to the accounting officers and must be taken up by a voucher. If the plan does not prove too troublesome, it will be extended throughout the country.

ZEMVOISTS GATHER IN SECRET SESSION

Rumored at Moscow That Committee Met Against Orders of Officials—Plans for Freedom.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Moscow, Russia, July 12.—Although the government a few days ago issued a decree forbidding the big congress of Zemstvoists and other representatives from all parts of Russia called for today, it is understood that a committee met secretly regardless of the officials and discussed plans for the freedom of Russia, as was in the case of the congress called at St. Petersburg several weeks ago and forbidden. The great hall of the Kremlin Palace is being reoccupied and put in order. These preparations have led to the rumor that the Emperor will soon come to Moscow for the purpose of delivering a manifesto summoning the representatives of the people.

Peace Envoys.

Pyster Bay, July 12.—Baron Rosen, the new Russian Ambassador to the United States, accompanied by Acting Secretary of State Adee, arrived here this morning on the naval yacht Syph and were driven to Sagamore Hill in the President's carriage, where the new Ambassador presented the letters of recall of Ambassador Cassini and his own credentials as Cassini's successor. President Roosevelt received Baron Rosen cordially and brief speeches were made by each, after which the Baron lunched with the President. Ordinarily this ceremony would have been delayed until fall, but the President desired to hasten the formalities because the new Ambassador is one of Russia's peace envoys. The party returned to Washington, via New York, this afternoon.

HEBREWS TO MOURN FOR LATE JOHN HAY

Memorial Mass-Meeting in His Honor
Planned in New York City—
Appreciated His Help.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
New York, July 12.—A committee of prominent Hebrews met here today and completed plans for a memorial mass meeting in honor of the late Secretary of State John Hay. The meeting will be held at Carnegie Hall and among the speakers will be prominent Hebrews from all parts of the country, who will express the appreciation which members of their race feel for the services which Mr. Hay performed in preventing further massing of Jews in Kishineff, Russia, two years ago, and appreciation of his character, abilities and achievements generally.

WILSON WILL QUIT CABINET

Cotton Leak Scandal Is Likely To Bring About His Retirement Soon.

NO BLAME FOR THE CHIEF OFFICIAL

Head Of The Department Of Agriculture Is In No Way Responsible For Wrong Doing Of His Subordinates.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Washington, July 12.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, it is almost certain, will retire from the cabinet as a result of the cotton leak scandal—not because he is implicated in the slightest degree or because his integrity is in question. Developments have convinced President Roosevelt that neither Secretary Wilson nor Statistician Hyde knew what was taking place under their noses. The President is far from being pleased with the outcome of the first investigation, as it was by no means searching enough.

May Prosecute Holmes.
Solicitor General Hoyt, the acting attorney general, after an examination of the papers in the case has concluded that former Associate Statistician Holmes, as well as his associates in the scandal, can be prosecuted successfully. Mr. Hoyt advised Attorney General Moody of his opinion and turned the papers in the case over to United States District Attorney Beach, with instructions to present the matter to the grand jury.

If the grand jury finds an indictment it will be for conspiracy to defraud the government, the penalty being imprisonment for not less than or more than three years, or a fine of not less than $5,000 or both fine and imprisonment.

The criminal investigation to be made by Attorney Beach will be far reaching. While the authorities are preparing for this inquiry the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges in letters to President Roosevelt urged that such inquiry be made to the end that the department of agriculture be purged of dishonest officials, and that those responsible for the recent leakages be punished.

Will Expose Accomplices.
Expense will not be spared in gathering evidence of the methods alleged to have been employed by Holmes, and in exposing any accomplices he may have had in his operations. Mr. Beach will have the benefit of the labors of secret service men who were employed by Secretary Wilson, and also of the best legal talent of his own office. Working on the case will be a number of men who ferreted out much of the evidence used in the prosecution of postoffice frauds.

It is planned to conduct the examination secretly, on the grounds that it will be much more effective. It has not been decided whether the case will be submitted to the grand jury prior to arrest, if it is found that arrests are warranted, but it is not believed this will be the procedure.

WITTE MADE THE HEAD OF ENVOYS

Will Lead the Peace Negotiations with Japan for Russia in Washington.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
St. Petersburg, July 12.—The Emperor has signed the appointment of M. Witte as chief plenipotentiary of Russia in the peace negotiations. Washington was officially notified this morning. Witte will sail on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse from Cherbourg on the 26th.

Is Very Ill
Paris, July 12.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg states the declaration of M. Mueraviev to head the Russian peace commission is partly due to ill health and partly to the fact the allowance of seventy-five hundred is insufficient owing to the greater cost of living in the United States.

AMBASSADOR PORTER ON THE STEAMER DEUTSCHLAND.

Arrives Home From France—Boat
Carried Seven Hundred Cabin
Passengers, Record of Season.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
New York, July 12.—Former American Ambassador to France, Gen. Horace Porter, was among the passengers who arrived on the transatlantic liner Deutschland today. The steamer brought seven hundred cabin passengers, which is the record for this season.

THOMAS LAWSON HAS HIS PRIVATE COACH

cuit in Car Recently Used

He and his party were received by Governor Johnson and a party of citizens. Lawson will speak tonight at the People's church. This is the largest auditorium in the city and the seats are all sold. #### KANSAS WILL NOT BLEED AGAIN.

When Tom Lawson of Boston reminded the people of Kansas that they began their political career in violence and warfare and exhorted them so to conduct themselves that "bleeding Kansas" would bleed again, says the Chicago Chronicle, he evidently had forgotten the conditions which gave the state its early sanguinary designation.

Kansas "bled" in the '50's not because it wanted to, not because a rich and sleek demagogue occupying a palace car advised it to do so, not because its people were rancorous and covetous, not because money was to be made in Wall Street by "bleeding" and not because a defeated stock speculator thought that blood would help him in his raids on the market, but because certain free state men from the east made bold to settle there for the purpose of preventing the establishment of slavery within its borders.

These men were not panic breeders and they were not revolutionists. They thought little about money and money-making. So far as their pecuniary welfare was concerned there was little prospect of gain in the wretchedness which they willingly encountered and in the dangers which they courageously braved for a principle. As a result of the violence which was visited upon them their friends in the east called the state in which they had settled "bleeding Kansas," their idea being to awaken sympathy for them in their struggle for liberty.

The early inhabitants of Kansas needed and were entitled to sympathy. Even after the slavery dispute had been settled by war Kansas suffered in many ways and the name given to it in antebellum days was revived in the '60's and the '70's when drouth, cyclone, floods, grasshoppers, and other misfortunes were visited upon it.

Tom Lawson did not know what he was talking about, therefore, when, in order to promote his malevolent campaign of greed and calamity, he advised Kansas to "bleed again." No one in that state remembering the painful experiences of its early years has any desire to see Kansas bleed again.

"Bleeding Kansas" is synonymous with assassination, arson, conflict, starvation, poverty and despair.

The Kansas to which the Boston panic breeder carried his malicious and destructive doctrines is peaceful, rich and contented. Its inhabitants are intelligent and progressive. If here and there may be found a rancorous and envious creature who would do away with existing conditions and return to the miseries of the past he is likely to have native wit enough to perceive in Tom Lawson an adviser whose self-interest is too manifest to be potential.

THE BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

The Department of Agriculture is paying the penalty for unwise publicity, and widespread complaint is heard throughout the cotton growing district. Advance statistics leaked from the Bureau of Statistics and speculators were not slow to take advantage.

Exposure coming at this time may prove a wholesome check, for the sentiment is popular that the government should own or control many public utilities.

The fact is that the government has no right to engage in business enterprises. The legislative, judicial and executive branches are not created for that purpose and intelligent people are not disposed to contribute money to establish public servants in business.

The Agricultural Bureau may not be regarded as a business enterprise. This department is supposed to disseminate seeds and information for the benefit of all the people, and yet it has been conducted so loosely as to interfere with one of the great industries of the country.

The government is an untangible thing when responsibilities are assumed along lines which are foreign to the mission for which it was created.

When it goes into business every taxpayer is a partner, and every voter has something to say about the policy to be pursued.

The voters of Chicago decreed that the taxpayers of that city should buy and operate the street railway system. This means city government ownership, and if the mandate is ever carried out, it means corrupt political management, and a burden to every property owner in the city.

Government ownership will mean the same thing on a larger scale. When a government cannot run a simple department in a business like way, it is idle to talk about larger responsibilities.

The Agricultural Department has been a football, and a plaything of this sort is all that the people care to support.

JUSTICE FOR CALEB POWERS.

It is a source of satisfaction to many people throughout the country to know that Caleb Powers, former Secretary of State in Kentucky, is to be given a fair trial. Mr. Powers was accused of being an accomplice in the murder of the late Governor Goebel. He has been tried and convicted four times in Kentucky courts, but the juries were partisan, and after long and persistent effort the case is again to be tried, but in the federal rather than the state court.

The consensus of opinion, outside of Kentucky democracy, is that Powers is innocent, but the courts of that state were determined to convict somebody of the crime, and Powers was the victim.

He will now be given an impartial trial, before an unprejudiced jury, and his chances for acquittal are good. Kentucky justice has long enjoyed an unsavory reputation and the shot gun and rifle have figured prominently in the enforcement of law. Powers is fortunate to escape with the sentence of death hanging over him, and he will be still more fortunate if he escapes from the state unharmed.

Mr. Jerome says Senator Lodge is "about as broad as the edge of a pen-knife blade." If a clinical thermometer had been used on the senator just after he read that it probably would have shown a rise to a temperature of fully 33 degrees. Even Mr. Lodge is capable of wrath at times.

Perhaps if some of the advocates of reform were within gunshot of the place where the grand dukes do their plotting they would understand why the czar thinks it wise to go slow.

People divorced in Illinois cannot marry again for a year. St. Joe thinks it is funny about that and will hoist the flag on its life-saving station even higher than before.

Russia may see a ray of hope in the fact that Baron Komura finds it unnecessary to use more than one steamer to carry the bill of indemnity across the Pacific.

If the capital of Russia is to be moved Three Oaks, Mich., and any number of boom towns in Oklahoma would like to submit bids.

Eventually we may expect to hear that somebody has consented at an appalling sacrifice of personal ambitions to become president.

After the czar has removed his capital to Moscow he may progress still farther and begin carrying it around in his hat.

Strange that those Equitable people should only just discover that Grover Cleveland always was of an inquiring turn of mind.

Elihu Root should be careful not to become so great that he cannot be president. Some former statesmen have made mistakes of that sort.

It is going to cost the state of Wisconsin a lot of money to maintain its penitentiaries if Milwaukee keeps going after the grafters at this rate.

Uncle Sam should hunt up the recipe he used in doping the yellow-fever germ in Cuba and try it in the case of the Panama microbes.

Having played its small thinking part in the great international drama Roumania may retire behind the wings again.

Statistician Holmes is the latest Washington official to be forcibly separated from a "good thing."

If not incompetence at least mediocrity has ruled the isthmus up to this time, judging from results.

Caleb Powers probably would feel slighted if he were not placed on trial every so often.

Milwaukee seems to have a strong lead over Philadelphia in the number of grafters bagged.

Maybe the Kaluz Polembin ran out of supplies and maybe its crew ran out of nerve.

Still, cotton is the last thing you would expect to see coming out of a leak.

Senator Mitchell is sorry that he was caught at it.

FOR MARRYING.

June is first choice.

In Holland girls prefer to become blushing brides in May.

About an eighth of Scotch marriages take place in June.

Germany favors April, regarding it as the first of the spring months.

One-seventh of the Swedish marriages occur in "the month of roses."

February is first choice in Italy, especially the period preceding the beginning of Lent.

Russia's favorite marriage month is January. So marriage, like death, has all seasons for its own.

WILL NEW ROAD RUN THROUGH TO MILTON?

Janesville, Edgerton and Northern Road Promoters Asking for Information.

W. K. Davis, secretary of the Milton Citizens' association of Milton, is in receipt of a letter from the Milwaukee Engineering Co., asking for definite information regarding the wishes of Milton people as to the route of the proposed line from Janesville to Waupun. This company is preparing the plans for an eastern syndicate. The plans were taken east this week by a member of the firm. The road will be known as the Janesville, Edgerton and Northern. It is said that the survey will be made soon, and work started immediately afterward. Owing to the roughness of the country and small population between Janesville and Edgerton there seems little doubt that the Milton route will be chosen. Nevertheless the citizens of these villages should get busy as soon as an opportunity is offered to influence the company.

CASE TO FORECLOSE BITTERLY FOUGHT

Judge Dunwiddle Hearing Action Against Beloit Hotel Company—Clow & Sons Plaintiffs.

One of the most hard-fought legal contests ever in the Rock county circuit court is now being heard by Judge Dunwiddle. The case is to foreclose the mechanics' liens of James B. Clow and sons, et al., on the Beloit Hotel company, et al. The parties to the case are both from Beloit and the liens are for the amount of several thousand dollars. Attorneys Jeffris and Mount of the firm of Fethers, Jeffris, Mount and Newhouse are appearing for the plaintiffs, Attorney W. G. Wheeler for the trustees under the mortgage and Attorney E. D. McGowan and Attorney John Root for others on the defense.

RUSSIAN THISTLE A DANGEROUS GROWTH

Residents Should Take Pains to Root the Plants Up Whenever Seen.

Russian thistles have again made their appearance in Janesville. This morning John Watson picked several specimens on North First street, near the Catholic church. These weeds if allowed to mature mean that next year it will be impossible to root them out. When ripened they tear up by the roots with the slightest puff of wind and are blown like a puff of ball all over, scattering their seeds. They will grow anywhere, ash-heaps, scrap-heap, cinder-heaps, in fact wherever they can gain a hold. Throughout the west they are a pest feared by ranchers and farmers. It is thought that the first specimens in Janesville may have been brought here in a cattle-car and blown out and grown near the tracks. Last year large numbers were found at the end of North Main street.

BATTLE WITH POSSE TO THEIR SORROW

One Outlaw Is Killed, the Other Is Fatally Wounded and Railway Detective Is Shot Dead.

Winfield, Kan., July 13.—Two men were killed, one fatally wounded, and a man and a woman slightly wounded as the result of the hold-up of the Bretton hotel here Sunday night, July 9, by Ed Madigan of Ponca City, Okla., and William Chaburn of Winfield. They entered the hotel, robbed six traveling men, and escaped. At Cedarvale, Tuesday night, C. S. Calhoun of Kansas City, a detective of the Santa Fe railway, encountered the outlaws on the street. Not being positive of his identification, he secured the city marshal and one of the traveling men who had been robbed and started in search of the robbers.

Early Wednesday morning they discovered the outlaws in a side street and started toward them, when Madigan or Chaburn opened fire. The first shot struck the detectives heart and the robbers again escaped. The town was aroused and a posse immediately started in pursuit of the bandits, who had stolen two horses and departed toward Hewins. The deputy sheriff there had armed a posse of twenty, being advised by telephone. Madigan and Chaburn rode up to a hardware store in Hewins, secured a rifle and revolver, and started out of town on a gallop. The posse then opened fire, which was returned by the robbers. The first to fall was Madigan, who was almost instantly killed. Soon afterward Chaburn was shot through the abdomen and he fell from his horse, fatally wounded.

During the fight J. M. Pope, a member of the posse, was shot through the foot, and a Mrs. Malone received a bullet wound in the leg. Neither is badly hurt.

Chaburn was taken to a hospital, where the doctors say his wound is fatal. He had served a term in the penitentiary for robbery. Nothing is known of Madigan. Both were less than 30 years old.

AMERICAN FLAG IS TRAMPLED

Orangemen at London, Ont., Resent Remark of a Michigan Visitor.

London, Ont., July 13.—An American flag was torn down in front of the city hall and trampled under a hundred feet because of a remark made by an American visitor at the Orangemen's demonstration. About 800 Americans came over from Michigan and during the day carried the stars and stripes through the streets without unfavorable comment being excited. At night the Americans were gathered in front of a hotel, when someone cried: "To — with Canada! She never showed us yet." Instantly the American flag, owned by the Port Huron, Mich., lodge, was torn from where it waved in the breeze and ripped into shreds and trampled under the feet of an angry mob. Port Huron Orangemen say they did not resent it, as they believed the insult to Canada was uncalled for.

A FORMER RESIDENT HERE

Passed Away at His Home in Portage—Soldier in the Thirtieth—The Recorder.

Major S. S. Rockwood, a former resident of Janesville and editor of the Janesville Recorder, died last night at his home in Portage. He is being city editor of the Portage Daily Democrat, and the other son, George R. Rockwood, being in Yuma, Ariz.

Born in New York State

He was born in New York state, Dec. 31, 1837, coming to Wisconsin when a child, locating first in Walworth county. He graduated from Milton college, afterward from the University of Wisconsin. He left the University of Wisconsin for army service and was commissioned second lieutenant of Company B, Thirtieth Volunteer Infantry, was promoted in 1862 to captain, served with Gen. Custer in the Texas campaign, and was mustered out of service Oct. 6, 1865, as a brevet major of volunteers. After the war he engaged in commission business in Chicago, and remaining there until 1868 when he took up educational work, was for a number of years professor of mathematics in Milton college.

Literary Work

Maj. Rockwood then went to White-water Normal school where for nine years he served as professor of mathematics. In 1881 he engaged in the newspaper business and worked seven years in the editorial departments, serving one year on the Elkhorn Independent, two years on the Janesville Recorder, and four years on the Wisconsin State Register at Portage. In 1887 Maj. Rockwood was appointed to a position in the state land office where he remained until 1889, when he was appointed chief clerk of the department of agriculture in Washington by Secretary J. M. Smith, and he served in this capacity during the closing years of President Harrison's administration.

HUSBAND IN PRISON; HOME WAS WRECKED

Beloit Woman Parts with Her Children After a Vain, Hard Struggle.

One of the sad results of the sending of a husband and father to state prison, leaving the family destitute and in need, comes from Beloit, when Mrs. Harry Mott, whose husband is now serving a term in state prison, gave her two children—both boys—to the care of the state, being unable to care for them herself. Mrs. Mott has the sympathy of people all over the state and her sad case is an example to others. Harry Mott, the husband, was at one time employed in the Beloit postoffice and was found to be crooked in his dealings. He was in jail at Madison for some time and later was sent to Sallwater prison. After his release from prison he returned to Beloit and sold slot machines for some time, installing several in Janesville business houses. He fell from grace again and was sent to state prison less than a year ago. Now his children are at the home for dependent children at Sparta.

TELLS OF TRIP THROUGH WEST

DR. JUDD RETURNS FROM THE PACIFIC COAST.

VISITED THE PORTLAND FAIR

Also Spent a Week in Yellowstone Park—Wonderful Western Country.

Dr. and Mrs. Judd have returned from an extended western trip. In speaking of it, Dr. Judd said: "We started July 15, myself and wife, H. S. Johnson and wife, T. O. Howe, wife and daughter Hazel. First we went to Kansas City; then to Denver, Salt Lake, and Boise City, Idaho. We took the steamer down the Columbia river from Dallas to Portland and after visiting the fair and spending four days there, we went up to Seattle and spent two days there, and then took the steamer for Victoria, British Columbia.

Homeward Bound

"We staid there one day and then returned to Seattle and started on our homeward trip, stopping at Spokane, a beautiful town and one of the best I saw on the whole trip, and then proceeded to the Yellowstone Park. Here we spent a week and then left for home by way of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Mrs. Howe and her daughter Hazel left the party at Jamestown, N. D., to visit Charles Sanborn's family, who formerly resided here at Esmond.

Portland Fair

"The Portland fair has beautiful grounds, three nice buildings, but it is very tame. Tamer than I expected. It is much smaller than the St. Louis fair and perhaps compares favorably with the Buffalo fair. The attendance is very light and some of the shows on the trail have quit business, owing to failure to make expenses. It runs so much in Portland that this may account for the attendance. We only had one pleasant day while in Portland. Portland is a beautiful city; busy, and with fine stores and hotel quarters probably the finest in the west, even better than Chicago. People treat you nicely and the rates are very reasonable, cheaper than you can live here. Victoria is a beautiful place. I liked Seattle better than I did Portland. While in Seattle the big freighter, the Dakotah, owned by James J. Hill, came in. It is the biggest freighter on the Pacific. Seattle is bound to be a big city. The topographical location of the two cities—Portland and Seattle—will in time make them the great cities of the west, but each has its own individual shipping trade. Portland has the great grain trade and Seattle the Japan and Alaska trade.

Sees Former Residents

"While in Portland we saw Fred Van Kirk, who was formerly in the grocery business here; Frank L. Smith, Millard Ide and Stuart Chase, all former residents of Janesville. While everything we saw was beautiful and we traveled over a large amount of territory we saw nothing that compared with Rock county and all former residents we met agreed with us."

BOLT STRIKES DOWN HORSES; MEN ESCAPE

What Might Have Been Serious Accident Occurred North of Milton Junction Tuesday. During the storm Tuesday a barn on the P. J. Hutchins place, north of Milton Junction, was struck by lightning and considerably damaged. Mr. Hutchins and a hired man were in the barn at the time and escaped uninjured although four horses in the stable were knocked down. The bolt passed through a quantity of straw in the loft and had not been for the prompt arrival of neighbors the barn and contents would have been destroyed. On the William Pick farm three miles west of Twin Grove, Green county, a lightning bolt caused the death of fourteen head of cattle, killing twelve of them outright and injuring three others so badly that two had to be killed.

THOSE SHADE TREES MUST BE TRIMMED

Orders of the Council Will Be Enforced by Marshal Comstock at Once. Property owners who have shade trees that come within ten feet of the sidewalk are to be compelled to trim their trees or they will receive a notice from Chief Comstock to that effect. The council called attention to the ordinance which relates to this at their last meeting and Chief Comstock has prepared the following notice, which he will serve on property holders who fail to do as the law requires of their own accord:

I desire to call your attention to the following ordinance now in force in the city of Janesville, and request that you comply with the same without delay.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN J. COMSTOCK, City Marshal.

NUMBER 20, AN ORDINANCE TO REQUIRE THE TRIMMING OF SHADE TREES.

The Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville do ordain as follows:

Section 1. The owner or occupant of each lot and parcel of land within the city of Janesville shall cause the ornamental and shade trees in the street in front of their respective lots and parcels of land to be trimmed so that the head or foliage of said trees shall not be less than ten feet from the ground.

Section 2. Any person who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by fine not exceeding ten dollars or less than five dollars.

Section 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

OSCAR WATTS DIES IN THE LINE CITY

Formerly Resided Here, and Is Father of W. E. Watts of Janesville—Veteran of Civil War.

W. E. Watts of this city was called to Beloit last evening by the serious illness of his father, Oscar Watts, and was present at the sick man's bedside when death came at eleven o'clock. The deceased had been ill for the past six months with spinal trouble and his demise was the result of this. Oscar Watts was sixty-eight years of age and had been a resident of Rock county his entire lifetime. He was born in Afton and had made his home there in Janesville and Beloit. His residence in Janesville was in the early eighties and he was an employee in the old Ford and Norcross mill, being a miller by trade. He was a member of the L. H. D. Grand Post number fifty-four, Grand Army of the Republic, having served in the Union army during the Civil War. He enlisted with the Twenty-second Wisconsin volunteers and with them passed four years in the service. There are left to mourn his loss a wife and nine children. They are Mrs. James of Milwaukee, W. E. Watts of Janesville, the Misses Minnie, Kildie and Anna Watts of Beloit, and George, Oscar, Walter, Frank and Andrew Watts of the same place. All were at the bedside last evening except Mrs. James of Milwaukee. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock and interment will be in the Line City.

How Mr. L. Williams, of Geneva, Got Teeth.

This was a very difficult case of occlusion of the jaw with vault palate. The leading dentist of Geneva spent seven days on his case without success and gave it up. A friend told him that Doctor Burrus was an expert at fitting difficult cases, and he thought that he could fit him.

On the 3d of July he called on Dr. Burrus. On the 4th he got a set of teeth that fitted nicely.

Dr. Burrus will be in Janesville before and during the Chautauqua and takes all such cases.

LOST HIS RAZORS BUT RECOVERED THEM

Victim of a Practical Joke Does Not Know It: Yet—Set Up Cigars.

Yesterday afternoon a North Main street barber sat in front of his shop talking with acquaintances. Whether it was the Russian war, the crops, the rainy weather or burglaries he discussed is not known, but he was very interested. In fact, he was so interested that a practical joker walked into his shop behind him, selected two fine razors from his drawer and walked out without the barber seeing him, although he passed within five inches of him on his trip in and out. A few minutes later a customer came and then the loss of the razors was discovered. Meanwhile of John Brown had been let into the secret. He appeared on North Main street and visited the two barber shops near the victim of the joke to make the bluff good and then approached the victim. "Did you lose any razors?" "Yes, someone sneaked in and took two of my best ones while I was in the back." "Are those yours?" "Yes sir, they are." "Well," said Brown, "I just arrested a tramp up at the Five Points and he had these on him and I thought he had stolen them." "Wait a minute," said the victim and he dived into the cigar box with a speed equal to the work on the east Milwaukee street paving job. "Have a cigar," and Officer Brown and the man who stole the razors had a smoke together. The joke of the whole thing is the barber does not know that he is the victim of a joke and is swelling the work of the police all out of shape.

LITTLE DELAY MADE AT STONE QUARRY

Ninety Yards of Stone Being Taken Out Each Day by Fourteen Men.

Rumors to the effect that the work on East Milwaukee street was to be delayed owing to a strike at the stone quarry was refuted this morning by Superintendent Potter. There was a slight friction among the men over pay for extra work on Sunday and five of the men left, but their places have been filled and a full force of fourteen is getting out ninety yards of rock a day. This is all being used on East Milwaukee street and will be furnished as fast as wanted. The trouble did delay the work a half a day, but Mr. Potter now says that there will be material as fast as needed.

WEALTHY PHILANTHROPIST

In Milwaukee Has Strange Healing Power.

EFFECTS MARVELOUS CURES

Remarkable Stories Told of Quiet Stranger Who Relieves Distress.

Milwaukee, July 12.—(Special.)—The people of this city are greatly excited over a number of remarkable cures which have been effected by a wealthy philanthropist, who is known as the Great Cooper.

The Plankton Hotel, where he has been stopping, is besieged with crowds of men and women eager to be cured of their ills.

Cooper is a quiet, gentlemanly person, with the appearance of a student, rather than the business man. He is apparently about thirty-one or two years of age. He first came into public notice by his philanthropic work among the poor. The large fortune he possesses has made it possible for him to distribute many wagon loads of food and clothing among those in indigent circumstances since his arrival in Milwaukee.

The first that was known of Cooper's power over disease was when Adolph Looser, living on Lee street in this city, declared that Cooper, the philanthropist, was the same person who saved his son's life in Kentucky two years ago, after the physicians had given him up to die. Mr. Looser stated that the doctors said his son was suffering from consumption and stomach trouble. He was very weak, had no appetite and could not digest what little he did eat. He was so low that he was unable to stand on his feet for any length of time, and the least exertion tired him. He had been sick for about five years when Mr. Cooper heard of the case and called to see the boy. Four doses of a peculiar medicine left by Mr. Cooper brought an immense parasite from the boy's system, measuring sixty feet in length. The boy began to improve immediately, and is today in perfect health.

A few days after this, Mrs. Pauline Maule, living at No. 408 Virginia street, reported that her husband, who had been paralyzed for four months, had regained the use of his limbs after only a few days' treatment by Cooper. This was followed by the remarkable cure of John Leary, a well known citizen, residing at No. 260 Fifth street. Mr. Leary has suffered from a stroke of paralysis last January and had been unable to move his limbs or even speak. He had been under the constant care of two physicians, but had received no benefit from their treatment. In one week after he began Cooper's treatment, he could use his limbs and had regained his speech. These reports flew through the city like wild-fire, and Cooper was besieged by people suffering from all manner of ailments.

He charges no fee for consultation, but advises those who wish to consult him, to write a plain statement of their condition, describing their symptoms, and send this statement to him by mail, and he will tell them what remedies to use and how to use them. That he is doing a great amount of good among the sick and needy of this city is an assured fact.

JOHN HAY

Distinguished Career of a Man Who Rose From the Ranks.

With the Soul of a Poet He Possessed the Keen Mind of a Man of Affairs.

The Author of Poems That Hurry the Heart Beats and State Papers That Have Made History.

His Boyhood, His Young Manhood and His Old Age—A Life of Accomplishment and Honor.

The Personal Side of This Many Sided American—Author of "Pike County Ballads." Friend and Protege of Lincoln—Made Possible Building of Isthmian Canal—Fond of Collecting Personal Caricatures.

JOHN HAY has often been called "the greatest secretary of state." High praise that, when it is remembered that the premiership of the American cabinet has been held by some of the most distinguished men in our political history. Thomas Jefferson, Edmund Randolph, John Marshall, James Madison, James Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Henry Clay, Martin Van Buren, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, James Buchanan, Edward Everett, Lewis Cass, William H. Seward, Elihu B. Washburn, William M. Evarts, James G. Blaine, Thomas F. Bayard, Walter Q. Gresham, Richard Olney, John Sherman and others almost as illustrious have shone in this place.

THE LATE JOHN HAY.

Giant of Giants in Statecraft.

To say that a man is the greatest of such a list is to make him a giant of giants.

Yet, measured by actual accomplishments in world politics, the late John Hay measures with any of them, and it is perhaps not extravagant praise to say that he goes to the head of the list. Certain it is that he made the United States the diplomatic center of the world, that he maintained the integrity of China, that he opened the diplomatic door for the building of the Isthmian canal, that he united the Anglo-Saxon world and made America its head, and that he introduced to all nations a new and more direct sort of diplomacy. Even a greater distinction probably belongs to him, though this is not generally known, as the moves made in international politics are mostly in the dark. Then, too, it is hard to say what would or would not have happened if certain steps had not been taken. Yet despite the veil of secrecy enough is known to have created the general belief that John Hay prevented a general European war from growing out of the conflict in the far east.

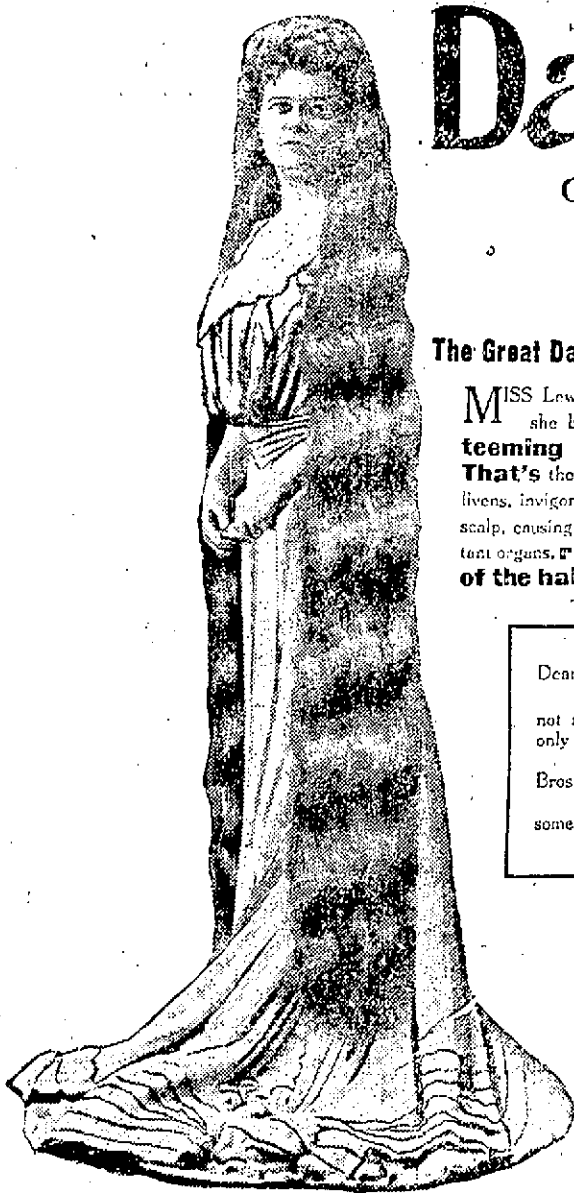

Leading up to this culminating role on the stage of statecraft were many minor positions in the diplomatic service. These began shortly after the civil war, and the first period ended in 1870. But in these few years three important places were held—secretary of legation at Paris, secretary of legation and charge d'affaires at Vienna and secretary of legation at Madrid. The second period began in 1879, when Hay was made first assistant secretary of state, which place was held until a change of administration in 1881. In that year the young diplomat held the important and honorable position of president of the international sanitary conference. The third period began in 1897, when one of the first acts of President McKinley was to nominate Mr. Hay as ambassador to Great Britain, from which position he was called a little over a year later to go to the head of the state department, where he remained till his death, a few days ago. While at London such a comparatively short time, Hay remains both in the American and English public mind, as the most conspicuous of the long list of brilliant men who have held the position of ambassador at the court of St. James.

Friend of Lincoln.

Diplomacy, however, was not the only field in which John Hay shone. Politics, war, journalism and literature each furnished some of the laurels interwoven in the wreath of his fame. He was one of the private secretaries of President Lincoln and was in peculiarly close and intimate relations with the great emancipator. He was the favorite editorial writer of Horace Greeley of the New York Tribune. He was the author of poems and prose sketches and histories read with interest and delight on two continents. To gain confidential information for Abraham Lincoln he was adjutant general to two or three commanders in the civil war, being promoted to the rank of colonel. In addition to all his other accomplishments he was an orator of power and scholarly finish, two of his most noteworthy efforts having been an address on Walter Scott and the memorial oration on the death of William McKinley, delivered in the hall of representatives in Washington.

The Ohio society of New York once gave Hay a dinner, for among his other titles of distinction the great secretary lived several years in Ohio. In that talk he bewailed the fact that he was a man without a state. "I was born in Indiana," he said, "I grew up in Illinois. I was educated in Rhode Island, and it is no blame to that scholarly community that I know so little. I learned my law in Springfield and my politics in Washington, my diplomacy in Europe, Asia and Africa. I have a farm

Danderine

GREW MISS LEWIS' HAIR

AND WE CAN

PROVE IT

The Great Danderine Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results

MISS Lewis' hair was very thin and it was less than two feet in length when she began using Danderine. She says her hair and scalp are now fairly teeming with new life and vigor.

That's the main secret of this great remedy's success as a hair grower. It enlivens, invigorates and fairly electrifies the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, causing unusual and unheard-of activity on the part of these two most important organs, resulting in a strenuous and continuous growth of the hair.

The following is a reproduction of Miss Lewis' last letter:

January 3, 1905.
Dear Doctor Knowlton:—
You know I told you in my first letter that my hair would not reach much below my shoulders, and that all of it together only made one tiny braid.
I am sending you my photograph, which I had taken at Stevens Bros. It tells the whole story better than I can tell it.
Everybody I know is using Danderine, so you see I am doing something to show my appreciation.
Sincerely yours, (Miss) EVA LEWIS.

Danderine makes the scalp healthy and fertile and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp fertilizer and therefore the greatest hair-producing remedy the world has ever known. It is a natural food and a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a 25c bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1. per bottle.

WOMAN'S POWERFUL EYES.

When She Turned Them on the Motorman He Simply Did as She Requested.

A good-looking woman can make most any man do most anything. A conductor and a motorman on a Columbus avenue car found that out the other day, relates the New York Press. The woman in that case was particularly attractive. The conductor noticed her when she came into the car, and he noticed her again when she went out. He had reason to look at her then, because she gave him so much trouble. She insisted upon his stopping the car at the rear side of the street.

"I can't do it, madam," he said, respectfully. "It is against the rules." The woman smiled and repeated her request. "I wish to get off at this side of Eighty-eighth street," she said. "It will inconvenience me greatly to be carried to the other side. We are almost there. Please ring the bell."

There was no withstanding the influence of those greenish-yellowish eyes. As the conductor explained it afterwards, "he would have had to stop on that corner if he had died for it." Accordingly, he rang the bell. The woman took her own time at getting off. Before she was safely landed in the street a truck got stalled across the tracks, and the car was delayed for five minutes on that account. While waiting for the obstruction to be cleared away the conductor went forward to interview his colleague.

"What did you ring for me to stop here for, anyway?" complained the motorman. "If we had gone on we'd have missed this breakdown." "I couldn't help myself," said the conductor, humbly. "She was bound to get off."

"Gee, Bill," laughed the motorman. "yours is a bad case. It's my private opinion that you need a guardian."

"That's all right," returned the conductor; "just wait till you get a pair of that kind of eyes fastened on you, and you'll do something you oughtn't to do the same as I did."

By and by the car started on. At the far corner it stopped again. A woman stood in the middle of the street and signaled to be taken on.

"Will you kindly let me in the front door?" she said.

"Can't do it, ma'am," said the motorman. "The gate's locked. You'll have to go around to the—"

"I prefer to come in this way," said the woman, quietly.

It took two minutes to unlock the gate and fasten it again, but the motorman did it. When the latest passenger had got comfortably settled the conductor went in to get his fare. She turned upon him a pair of greenish-yellowish eyes.

"I made a mistake," she said, sweetly. "I want to get off at Seventy-eighth street. West, instead of Eighty-eighth. Of course you won't make me pay another fare."

The motorman heard the altercation and looked back. "Great Scott!" he said, "is that the same one?"

"The same one," was the reply. "Who do you think needs a guardian now?"

THROUGH TWO WARS

CAPT. "ED" WHITTEN SERVED HIS COUNTRY.

New Hampshire Man Proud of Record in the Mexican and Civil Strifes—Daring Apprehension of a Desperate Criminal.

(Special Correspondence.)

Capt. "Ed" Whitten sometimes becomes reminiscent, and everybody in Carroll county, N. H., knows what that means. Cap "Ed" is a man of leisure now; the experiences he delights to recall happened anywhere from forty to sixty years ago, and when he gets started—it doesn't matter whether it is on the depot platform at West Ossipee or in Sumner Garland's hotel—the company prepares to hear some thrillers about Mexican war times, sleuthing in the wild and woolly West, or up in Canada in the sixties, bringing back deserters from the northern country.

But it is in the house in Tamworth, where the veteran keeps bachelor hall, and is surrounded by relics of the past, that he finds inspiration. He has lived alone for a number of years, but is not a recluse by any means. There is hardly a day that he does not drive to one of the centers of population in the county, and at the age of 78 is still able to hold his end with the best of them when it comes to story-telling or a discussion of local political conditions.

Prominent at many of the Grand Army encampments, he is the central figure in several photographic groups of veterans in blue, and few have more to show for service performed for the country. He always wears a silver medal presented to him by congress for meritorious service, on which is recognition of his work in the battles of Palo Alto, Buena Vista, Vera Cruz, Cerro Gordo, Churubusco, Chapultepec and San Pasqual Tebasco.

Mexican War Story.

His favorite story of the Mexican war is this: "One of the most exciting experiences I had was in getting into the castle at Vera Cruz. It is not a pleasant task to kill a man in cold blood in order to get past him, but that is what we were obliged to do in order to secure the information the commanders wanted."

"Vera Cruz was a walled city, supposed to be strongly fortified. I was detached from the army and a midshipman named Rogers from the navy. We the elaborate monuments. Several of us got leave of absence, and, securing cavalry horses, rode to the cemetery. We were looking things over when a party of Mexicans came up, seized the horses and took us prisoners. It was two or three months before I was exchanged, but all the time I was there I was well treated."

Hunting Down Noted Criminal.

The experience which Capt. Whitten takes most satisfaction in telling happened in the fifties, when he was in the employ of the secret service and was detailed, upon requisition of Gov. Williams of Maine, to hunt down David Stone, alias Amos Wilson, who was wanted in that state for forgery and horse-stealing and was suspected of murder.

The Captain To-day.

"I had worked on this case all winter, without getting a trace of the man," said Capt. Whitten. "Finally I learned that Stone had once worked for Deacon Wiley, a lumberman at North Conway, who some years before had moved to Wisconsin. I made up my mind that Stone had gone out there to work for his former employer, and I went out to make sure. I found Deacon Wiley at Onalaska, twelve miles above La Crosse, and learned that Stone was then working in a lumber camp about thirty miles above on the Black river. With Sheriff Hall of La Crosse, I set out for the camp on a two-horse sled, and arrived there in the dead of night."

"We knew we had a rather desperate lot of men to deal with, and that they would probably attempt to rescue

Stone, but it was decided to act at once. Gaining admittance to the lodge in which the men were quartered, on the pretext that we wanted shelter, I inquired of the keeper if Amos Wilson was there. The keeper apparently suspected that something was up, and gave an evasive answer, but just then I saw a man in one of the bunks raise his head and give me a quick glance. I recognized him as Wilson, and before the keeper could stop me I rushed to his side and had him out of the bunk and partly handcuffed before he had time to struggle."

"In a moment the entire lodge was aroused. Men sprang up from all directions, and about a dozen of them made a rush for me, some with guns, others grabbing axes, and for a moment it seemed as if there was going to be trouble."

"In their anxiety to get at me, however, the lumbermen had not seen Sheriff Hall. He now shouted to them, warned them back, and when they looked up they found the sheriff's two revolvers covering the entire party."

"Before they had recovered from their surprise, I told them that the man I wanted was a horse thief, a forger and was suspected of murder, and finally succeeded in quieting them."

"But we did not lose any time about getting away with Stone. We hustled him into the sled and drove in haste to LaCrosse. I brought him back to Maine, and he was given a long sentence for forgery, but was never tried on the murder charge."

The Spirit

of Your Store

Should be so thoroughly instituted into the minds of your people that they could not think any dry goods, groceries, jewelry or whatever line you may be selling, without associating your name with that line involuntarily. This cannot be done in one week or in one month, but by a persistent campaign of several months it can be done and you will realize an increase in your business that will startle you.

This sort of prestige can be established by a judicious advertising campaign in the DAILY GAZETTE, which goes to the people in the evening when their minds are free and clean.

Important Announcement...

Premium Purchase Tickets.

According to agreement which appeared in the Gazette and entered into by most of the business houses in Janesville: not to give trading stamps, &c., the signers were permitted a reasonable time to carry out existing contracts.

We have been giving Premium Purchase Tickets since 1884, and as many people have them, it would not be using our customers right to discontinue giving tickets without notifying them in advance.

Sept. 1st...

We will not give Tickets after Sept. 1st, which will afford all customers holding our tickets an opportunity to call and exchange them for premiums, also enable people to get more tickets, to finish out enough to get some particular article that they may have in mind.

were to get into the fort and learn everything possible about it, the number of guns, their positions and anything else that would be of value.

"The place was supposed to be closely guarded, with sentinels placed at each landing on the stone steps leading up to the castle. In the darkness Rogers and I were rowed quietly up under the fort, and we succeeded in effecting a landing without being observed. Our plan was to advance as quietly as possible, surprise and kill each guard we came to, and thus reach the inside of the fort. I was to take the first man, Rogers the next."

"In the darkness we were successful in reaching the first landing without any suspicion of our presence being aroused. I waited an opportunity, rushed up, seized the guard and ran a knife into him before he could make any outcry. Assured that he was dead, we left him there, then silently ascended the steps until the next landing was reached. Here Rogers found his man, and disposed of him in the same manner."

"The second man laid away, we hurried along, and succeeded in getting inside the fort without much further trouble. In less than half an hour we had secured all the information we required, and got away in the boat before the bodies of the guards were discovered. A few days later the bombardment of the castle began and we succeeded in taking it."

"Not long after that I was taken prisoner, but I had nothing to complain of in this connection," said Capt. Whitten, resignedly. "We were in camp after taking the city of Regardo, and I had heard a good deal about the splendid cemetery they had there, and

Are You Tired of Paying Blunder Taxes?

Many a business man pays as much money for the luxury of blundering as a steam yacht or private touring car would cost.

"Blunder Taxes" cannot be evaded—whatever else waits, these must be paid. If a business man gets into the habit of making the same blunders more than once, the taxes will soon amount to confiscation.

"Blunder Taxes" are levied with amazing frequency upon store advertisers. Among the blunders which are assessed at "full value" in advertising are these:

Selection of poor mediums;

Using too little space in good mediums;

Devoting less attention to preparing the daily store advertisements than to the storing of some empty boxes in the basement;

Stopping the ad. altogether for one or more days now and then;

Figuring the advertising appropriation on the basis of what you can "afford" after all other expenses are provided for.

Use of circulars, posters, fence-signs, placards and Jim-cracks, under the impression that you are securing real publicity; and that somehow, somewhere, sometime someone will be influenced by some of these things to come to your store and buy something.
